The Company bears no responsibility in the event that unauthorised third parties gain access to the Publisher's account, including any resulting losses or transactions made by such parties
- 3.4. The Publisher recognises and agrees that:
 - 3.4.1. Once registered, the New User becomes the customer of the Advertiser, and ownership thereof is assumed by the Advertiser. The Publisher acknowledges that an Advertiser reserves the right to reject registration of any New Users, suspend, or close their accounts in accordance with the Advertiser's terms and conditions. Such actions are solely at the discretion of the Advertiser to comply with any mandatory requirements it deems necessary; and
 - 3.4.2. The Company functions solely as a platform enabling the Publisher to direct traffic to Advertisers. The Publisher agrees to accept and adhere to all terms and conditions, policies, and operational procedures of the Advertisers continuously.

4. Marketing

- 4.1. The Publisher has the option to request permission to market Advertisers or their Products as they see fit. Advertisers have the right to approve or reject these requests. The Publisher is only permitted to market an Advertiser or its Products under this Agreement with ongoing approval from the Advertiser.
- 4.2. Advertisers have the authority to establish Program Terms and modify them at their discretion. These changes will take effect upon notice to either the Publisher or the Company, as applicable, which may include publication on the Interface. Advertisers reserve the right to adjust their program terms at any time. It is the sole responsibility of the Publisher to stay informed about any updates to the Program Terms and to comply with them accordingly.
- 4.3. Upon the Publisher's adherence to this Agreement and the Program Terms, and with ongoing approval from the respective Advertiser, the Advertiser Materials will be accessible to the Publisher through the Interface or as otherwise provided by the advertiser.
- 4.4. The Company, however, does not have an obligation to review any Advertiser Material or assess their legality or accuracy. The Publisher retains the discretion to publish the Advertiser Materials through its Publisher Service and use them strictly within the bounds permitted by this Agreement and the Program term.

- 5.1. The Company shall provide the Publisher with all reasonable support for the implementation of the Links/s thereon.
- 5.2. The Company is not liable for the content and presentation of any material provided to the Publisher by the Advertiser. The Company bears no responsibility for any inaccuracies in advertising materials provided by Advertisers or for materials that are outdated when published. The Publisher assumes full responsibility and liability for how the materials provided by the Company or Advertiser are presented on the Publisher Source(s) or distributed through any other medium specified in this Agreement. The Publisher must ensure the suitability and compliance of these materials with all relevant laws, rules, and regulations, and must strictly adhere to the Advertiser's Publisher program terms and conditions.

- 5.3. The Company reserves the right to monitor the Publisher Source(s) to ensure compliance with the terms and conditions of this Agreement and those of the Advertiser. The Publisher agrees to provide the Company with any data reasonably requested to facilitate such monitoring.
- 5.4. The Company will manage the turnover generated through the Links, track net revenues, and calculate the total commission owed to the Publisher using a unique tracking identification code assigned to all New Users.
- 5.5. The Company will pay the Publisher the amount owed as calculated under Clause 7 of this Agreement, in accordance with the terms specified herein.
- 5.6. The Company will furnish the Publisher with a monthly report detailing the traffic volume generated by the Publisher through the Links.
- 5.7. The Company reserves the right, at its sole discretion, to request any information or documentation from the Publisher for due diligence purposes deemed necessary or appropriate under this Agreement. This may include details regarding compliance procedures and relevant regulations in the jurisdictions of operation. The Publisher agrees to comply with and assist the Company upon such request. Failure by the Publisher to provide the requested due diligence documents or information may result in the Company withholding payment at its discretion or termination of this agreement thereof.
- 5.8. The Company reserves the absolute right to request the Publisher to remove any and all marketing material within 24 hours of written notice.
- 5.9. The Company may deactivate any Links on request of the respective Advertiser, or at its sole discretion.

6. Publisher's Rights, Obligations and Warranties

- 6.1. By submitting the Application Form or as the case may be, the Publisher acknowledges acceptance of and commits to adhering to all the terms and conditions specified in this Agreement, as well as the terms and conditions of the Advertiser's the Publisher will promote.
- 6.2. The Publisher hereby represents and warrants that it:
 - 6.2.1. Holds, and will continue to hold throughout the term of this Agreement, the legal authority and capacity to enter into this Agreement, grant the specified rights, and perform all duties outlined herein;;
 - 6.2.2. Has acquired and will maintain all necessary registrations, authorizations, consents, and licences required to fulfil its obligations under this Agreement; and

- 6.2.3. Completely understands and accepts the terms and conditions of this Agreement.
- 6.3. Specifically, the Publisher explicitly commits to:
 - 6.3.1. The fact that Owner will continue to have the authority to act on behalf of the Publisher and legally bind the Publisher;
 - 6.3.2. Authorize all Authorised Users to access, view, and operate the Publisher Account per the permissions on the Interface, which must be kept updated;
 - 6.3.3. Implement and allow the Company to implement any security measures, authentication methods, and standards deemed necessary, ensuring the Owner and all Authorized Users comply;
 - 6.3.4. Make every effort to ensure the Owner and Authorized Users:
 - 6.3.4.1. Use their own Authorized User Account for accessing the Interface; and
 - 6.3.4.2. keep any passwords and 2SV (two-step verification) recovery codes confidential.
 - 6.3.5. Ensure the proper functioning and maintenance of all Links;
 - 6.3.6. Provide Advertisers and the Company with comprehensive and clear instructions regarding the Advertiser Material necessary for promoting an Advertiser or its Products according to this Agreement and program terms;
 - 6.3.7. To provide Advertisers reasonable access to information the Advertiser may require to operate the Advertiser Program; and
 - 6.3.8. To remain primarily liable for the acts and omissions.
 - 6.3.9. Advertise, market, and promote the Advertiser's website to potential users by providing Links and distributing marketing material received from the Company or Advertiser on the Publisher's Website(s) or through other approved marketing channels. Ensure the Links are prominently displayed or integrated into the Publisher Source(s) as agreed upon with the Company;
 - 6.3.10. Utilise your professional skills and expertise to energetically and efficiently market the Advertiser's website broadly, ensuring adherence to industry standards and best practices to optimise benefits, while complying with this Agreement and all relevant marketing guidelines and regulations.
 - 6.3.11. Use only marketing materials as supplied by the Company or the Advertiser for the advertisement, marketing and promotion of the Advertiser's website without making any alteration unless authorised in writing by the Company. The Links and/or the marketing material shall not be amended or altered without the prior written consent of the Company;
 - 6.3.12. - 6.5. The Publisher acknowledges and agrees that the customer database in respect to the New Users shall belong to the Company and warrants and represents that throughout the term of this Agreement and following termination it shall not have access to the customer database nor to a database of New Users and shall refrain from attempting to or contacting any New User in relation to any matter without the prior written approval of the Advertiser.

- 6.6. The Publisher is prohibited from removing any Links, transferring or migrating referred players to the Advertiser, or altering fees payable by the Company.
- 6.7. Upon request by the Company or the Advertiser, the Publisher agrees to promptly remove any Advertiser Materials from the Publisher Service.
- 6.8. The Publisher warrants ongoing compliance with its obligations under the GDPR. It acknowledges that the Company does not have access to New Users' personal data and thus cannot be held liable for any breaches.
- 6.9. The Publisher shall be entitled to receive a commission in respect of all New Users forwarded to the Advertisers through the Links which commission shall be calculated and be payable on the basis of the Payment Plan specified by the Company in the Application Form and as detailed in Clause 7.

7. Payments

- 7.1. Revenue Share Plan: The Publisher will earn a percentage of the Company's Net Revenue as Commission. The specific percentage will be as outlined in the Application Form.
- 7.2. The Tracking Code and Program Terms will exclusively govern the recording, determination of Actions and Commissions, and tracking under this Agreement. No other methods of recording or determining Actions or Commissions will be employed, regardless of any agreement or arrangement between the Publisher and any Advertiser.
- 7.3. The Revenue Share commission is calculated at the start of each month based on the previous month's activities. The Company aims to process payment of the commission according to this plan by the 30th day of each calendar month, given that the amount exceeds €100 (minimum threshold). If the balance due falls below this minimum threshold, it will be carried over to the next calendar month and paid once the accrued balance surpasses the specified minimum threshold.
- 7.4. All Revenue Share commissions will align with the Advertiser's own terms and conditions regarding the definition of gross and net revenue, negative carryover policies, and lifetime revenue share earnings for referred players.
- 7.5. If the Advertiser adjusts the fees payable to the Company related to New Users, the corrected amount will be used in calculating the Revenue Share. In cases where the Company has already paid commissions to the Publisher but subsequently receives corrections from the Advertiser, any required adjustments will be settled in subsequent months through a set-off arrangement between the Company and the Publisher. Furthermore, if there are ongoing negotiations between the Company and the Advertiser regarding the compensation owed, the Company will withhold payment of Commissions to the Publisher until these discussions are resolved and an agreement is reached with the Advertiser.

- 7.6. Under the Pay per New User Payment Plan, the Publisher will earn a commission based on the volume of New User traffic generated from the Publisher Source(s) through the Links to the Advertisers, at a rate per New User specified in the Application Form. This commission rate per New User is specified in the Application Form. The number of New Users registered with each Advertiser in a given month will be determined using the Company's own reporting tools for the purpose of this Payment Plan. The Company reserves the right to adjust calculations in response to any corrections made by the Advertisers.
- 7.7. Under the Upfront Payment Plan, the Publisher will receive a monthly lump sum commission that covers all New User registrations within that period, as specified in the Application Form.
 - 7.7.1. The payment of the lump sum commission shall be subject to the minimum number of New User Registrations specified in the Application Form;
 - 7.7.2. Payment of this lump sum commission is contingent upon meeting the minimum number of New User Registrations outlined in the Application Form. The Publisher acknowledges and agrees that no additional payments, fees, or commissions beyond the lump sum commission will be owed.
 - 7.7.3. If the Publisher fails to achieve the minimum number of New User Registrations, the Company reserves the right to request a refund of the lump sum commission.
- 7.8. The Publisher acknowledges that the Payment Plan specified in the Application Form, as identified by the Company, shall govern their compensation. The specific terms outlined in Clause 7—whether pertaining to the Revenue Share Plan, the Pay per New User Plan, or the Upfront Payment Plan—will apply according to the plan designated in the Application Form or as agreed otherwise between the parties.
- 7.9. The Company will issue a self-billed invoice on behalf of the Publisher at the end of each month, detailing the commission owed for that period. The Publisher has twenty-four hours (24) to review and raise any objections to the invoice. If the Publisher does not contest the invoice within this timeframe, it will be deemed tacitly approved by the Publisher. The Company will then proceed to make payment in accordance with the terms of this Agreement. Additionally, as per the agreed procedure outlined herein, any documentation issued by the Publisher referring to commissions owed will not be considered binding or constitute an invoice.

- 7.10. Payment shall be made by the Company within thirty (30) days from the date of the invoice.
- 7.11. By accepting the payment, the Publisher agrees that it constitutes full and final settlement of the balance due for the relevant period.
- 7.12. The Company reserves the right to postpone payment of any balance to the Publisher for up to one hundred and eighty (180) days, during which it will conduct an investigation to verify that the transactions comply with the provisions of the terms.
- 7.13. It is expressly agreed that no payment shall be payable for traffic generated that is illegal or in violation of any provision of this Agreement or Program terms.
- 7.14. The Publisher acknowledges the obligation to reimburse all payments received for transactions found to be fraudulent or falsified, along with covering all legal expenses and potential liabilities to the fullest extent allowable by law.
- 7.15. The Publisher bears sole responsibility for paying all taxes, levies, fees, charges, and any other financial obligations, whether local or international, to any relevant tax authority or entity, resulting from revenue generated under this Agreement. The Company holds no liability for any unpaid amounts deemed due by the Publisher, and the Publisher agrees to indemnify the Company accordingly.
- 7.16. To clarify, upon termination of this Agreement by either party, the Publisher acknowledges that they will no longer be eligible to receive any further payments from the Company. However, any payments already earned and unpaid (such as commissions) will be honoured and disbursed. Additionally, any lifetime revenue share agreements will cease to be in effect if the termination of the Agreement occurs under Clauses 11.2, 11.3, 11.4 and 11.5 as outlined below.
- 7.17. The Company retains the right to modify the Payment Plan at any time by providing written notice to the Publisher and such change shall be effective on the date of notification.

- 7.18. Should the Company enter into a settlement agreement or any other agreement or discussions with the Advertiser regarding the payment of remuneration entitled to the Company, and it transpires that the amount paid by the Advertiser to the Company is less than the Commission paid by the Company to the Publisher, the Company shall inform the Publisher of such change or settlement or agreement. The Publisher shall then set off the overpaid amount by the Company on a pro-rata basis in accordance with the agreed Payment Plan in the Application Form or as agreed between the parties.

8. Intellectual Property Rights

- 8.1. All Intellectual Property Rights generated from or related to this Agreement, including advertising materials, databases, and personal data, shall exclusively belong to the Company, with no rights granted to the Publisher. The Publisher hereby assigns (by way of present and where appropriate, future assignment) to the Company, with full title guarantee and without reservation of any kind, all existing and future Intellectual Property Rights to the fullest extent permitted by law. Where they are incapable of vesting in the Company by operation of the law or this Agreement, the Publisher shall hold legal title in these rights on trust solely for the Company.
- 8.2. Any and all copyrights, invention, design rights, know-how, patents and all or any other industrial or Intellectual Property Rights whether or not registered or capable of registration developed or produced by the Publisher in the course of providing its services hereunder shall be the exclusive property of the Company or any of its Advertisers, as the Company shall determine from time to time and, for the sake of clarity, the Publisher shall have no rights to any materials, software and other works results produced in the course of this Agreement. Furthermore, by signing this Agreement the Publisher waives any rights it might have under the laws of the relevant jurisdiction to any such materials, software and other work results and agrees to be party to any agreement or procedures required in order to ensure the provisions of this clause are maintained. The Publisher acknowledges that the consultancy fees to be received by it for its services makes specific provision for and includes all and any consideration that should be due to it for the assignment of the Intellectual Property Rights contemplated herein and that no further fees or remuneration, other than those provided for under this Agreement, are due or may become due to the Publisher in respect of the performance of its obligations under this clause.
- 8.3. The Publisher agrees to indemnify the Company and keep it indemnified at all times against all or any costs, claims, damages, or expenses incurred by the Company, or for which the Company may become liable, with respect to intellectual property infringement claim or other claim relating to the services provided by the Publisher to the Company during the course of the provision of the services.

- 8.4. The Publisher warrants that it shall inform the Company immediately upon it finding out that it may need to avail of any Intellectual Property Rights owned by it, or in which it has a vested interest, in order to perform its duties in accordance with this Agreement. In such event, Publisher shall enter into an agreement with Company in order to assign such Intellectual Property Rights to the Company for the furtherance of the project at hand at no cost to the Company and with the right of the Company to further assign such rights to any other person deemed interested in such Intellectual Property Rights by the Company.
- 8.5. The Company shall have the exclusive right to utilise the results of the Services as well as to modify and dispose of any such rights.
- 8.6. This Agreement does not confer any rights, title, or interest in the Intellectual Property Rights of the Company or any Related Company to the Publisher. During and after the term of this Agreement, the Publisher shall not engage in, support, or allow others to challenge or attempt to register the Company's or any Related Company's trademarks. Furthermore, the Publisher agrees not to register or attempt to register any trademark or website domain that is identical or similar to any mark owned by the Company or any Related Company

9. Confidentiality

- 9.1. The Parties understand that the Confidential Information has substantial commercial value to the disclosing Party and is being provided in confidence exclusively for the purposes of this Agreement.
- 9.2. Each recipient of Confidential Information commits to the disclosing Party that it will, and will ensure that any person authorised to receive Confidential Information will:-
 - 9.2.1. keep the Confidential Information secret and confidential;
 - 9.2.2. not use the Confidential Information in any way except to the extent reasonably necessary for the purpose of this Agreement;
 - 9.2.3. not disclose the Confidential Information or any part of it to any person other than in accordance with this clause;
 - 9.2.4. not use or benefit from any Confidential Information received by it so as to procure any commercial advantage over the disclosing Party;
- 9.3. The requirement to keep the Confidential Information confidential, as specified in this Agreement, will endure and remain effective, even after this Agreement has been terminated or has expired, or if either Party issues a notice.
- 9.4. A recipient is authorised to disclose all or part of the Confidential Information to individuals who require access to it (for the Company, this includes any Related Company, its employees, Publishers, auditors, and advisors). However, such disclosure must be limited to what is reasonably necessary and subject to confidentiality obligations that are at least as stringent as those specified in this Agreement. Each recipient undertakes to ensure that any authorised person who receives Confidential Information complies with these confidentiality obligations as if they were a party to this Agreement

9.5. Excluded information: The obligations under this clause shall not apply to, and the term Confidential Information does not include any information with the recipient can prove:-

- 9.5.1. was known to the recipient, otherwise than under any obligation of confidentiality, prior to its disclosure by the disclosing Party;
- 9.5.2. was developed by any employee of the recipient who has not had any direct or indirect access to or knowledge of the Confidential Information;
- 9.5.3. was disclosed to the recipient without any obligation of confidence by a third party who has not derived it directly or indirectly in breach of an obligation of confidentiality owed to the disclosing Party;
- 9.5.4. was at the time of disclosure by the disclosing Party, or subsequently becomes, published, accessible to the public or otherwise in the public domain, other than through any breach by the recipient or any person authorised to received Confidential Information under Clause 9.4 above or of any other obligation of confidentiality;
- 9.5.5. has been agreed by the Parties in writing as being excluded from Confidential Information.

9.6. A Recipient shall not be deemed to have breached its obligations under this clause if, and to the extent that, it is compelled by law, court rules, or directives from any governmental or regulatory authority to disclose Confidential Information. In such cases, the recipient must promptly notify the disclosing Party in writing regarding the request or requirement for disclosure and provide all pertinent details before proceeding with the disclosure, to the extent feasible and permissible. If immediate notification before disclosure is impracticable, the recipient agrees to inform the disclosing Party promptly after making the disclosure, if permitted. Additionally, the recipient pledges to use reasonable efforts to resist any disclosure mandate (and to assist the disclosing Party in doing so), while maintaining the confidentiality of the Confidential Information.

9.7. The Parties affirm and agree that they shall each adhere to the GDPR and the Data Protection Act in handling and processing personal data. This commitment includes, but is not restricted to:

- 9.7.1. The Publisher agrees not to gather data without a lawful basis to do so;

- 9.7.2. Should the Publisher conduct direct marketing to customers via emails, SMS, or telephone messages, it must ensure it has obtained explicit consent from recipients and be capable of providing proof of such consent to the Company;
 - 9.7.3. The Publisher shall adopt a privacy policy, in line with applicable law, and shall comply with the Privacy Policy.
 - 9.7.4. The Publisher is obligated to notify users that their devices will have tracking technology installed upon clicking the Links. Furthermore, the Publisher must provide users with the choice to decline this installation.
- 9.8. Each Party acknowledges and agrees that personal data, as defined under the GDPR, pertaining to the other Party or its employees (if any), may be gathered and utilized exclusively for the purposes outlined in this Agreement or as required by legal obligations or legitimate interests.

10. LIABILITY & INDEMNIFICATION

- 10.1. The Publisher acknowledges and agrees that using the internet and participating in the Publisher Program carries inherent risks, which the Publisher assumes entirely. The Company does not guarantee the continuous availability of the Company Platform or Interface, if applicable, at any specific time or location. The Company shall not be held liable to the Publisher or any other party for any inaccuracies, errors, omissions, losses, injuries, or damages arising from failures, delays, or interruptions of the Interface or the Publisher Program, whether in whole or in part.
- 10.2. The Company assumes no liability to the fullest extent permitted by law, whether in contract, tort, breach of statutory duty, or otherwise, for any of the following: (i) economic losses such as loss of profits, revenues, business, contracts, or anticipated savings of the Publisher; (ii) indirect or consequential losses suffered by the Publisher; or (iii) any impairment of the Publisher's goodwill or reputation.
- 10.3. The Company and its Group Companies' total aggregate liability arising from or in connection with the Agreement, whether in contract, tort (including negligence or breach of statutory duty), misrepresentation, restitution, or otherwise, shall be capped at the total Commission received by the Publisher from Company in the six-month period preceding the date when the claim arose.
- 10.4. No party will be liable for any breach of this Agreement arising from circumstances beyond its reasonable control (a "Force Majeure Event"). If a Force Majeure Event continues for six months, the unaffected party may terminate this Agreement by giving 30 days' written notice to the other party.

- 10.5. The Publisher undertakes to defend, indemnify, and hold harmless the Company, its Related Companies, successors, officers, employees, agents, directors, shareholders, and attorneys from any and all claims, fines, liabilities, including reasonable legal and expert fees, arising from:
 - 10.5.1. Any violation of the Publisher's representations, warranties, or obligations under this Agreement;;
 - 10.5.2. Misuse or improper use of marketing materials and the Intellectual Property Rights of the Company or any Related Company by the Publisher;
 - 10.5.3. Fines imposed by public authorities or claims brought by Advertisers due to the Publisher's actions or omissions;
 - 10.5.4. Breach of the Publisher's responsibilities under the GDPR or the Data Protection Act.

11. TERM & TERMINATION

- 11.1. This Agreement will start on the Effective Date and continue until terminated in accordance with its terms.
- 11.2. Either party may terminate the Agreement on 30 days' written notice to the other party for any reason. Without prejudice to its other rights or remedies, a party may terminate the Agreement immediately on written notice to the other party, if:
 - 11.2.1. the other party materially breaches this Agreement;
 - 11.2.2. the other party is deemed unable to pay its debts; steps are made to wind up, or appoint an administrator over, the other party; a third party becomes entitled to appoint a receiver over the assets of the other party; the other party negotiates with all or a class of its creditors, or proposes or enters a compromise with such creditors; or any similar or analogous event occurs.
- 11.3. The Company may (i) terminate this Agreement, or (ii) Suspend the Publisher, or (iii) suspend and withhold all payments due to the Publisher (at its sole and absolute discretion) with immediate effect on written notice, if the Publisher:
 - 11.3.1. does not access the Publisher Account for a period of six months or if no Commissions have been generated for a period of six months;
 - 11.3.2. is reasonably suspected by the Company to have breached:
 - 11.3.2.1. Any of the representations and/or warranties set out in this Agreement; Or
 - 11.3.2.2. Any program terms of an Advertiser; Or
 - 11.3.2.3. Undergoes a Change of Control; Or
 - 11.3.2.4. Failed to provide the necessary due diligence documents or any other information as requested by the Company from time to time.

- 11.4. The Company further reserves the right to terminate this Agreement with immediate effect if i) the Advertisers cease their consent for the Publisher to send them traffic for any reason or ii) for any other reason by the Company without liability.
- 11.5. Unless expressly authorised in writing by the Company, once a notice of termination has been issued (by either the Company or the Publisher), the Publisher must refrain from removing or altering the Links on the Publisher Sources in any manner that would deactivate them until the termination takes effect.
- 11.6. On termination of the Agreement:
 - 11.6.1. all licences will terminate and the Publisher shall immediately deactivate the Links and remove any Advertiser Materials from the Publisher Service;
 - 11.6.2. each party will return or at the other party's option destroy all confidential information in its possession within five Business Days; and
 - 11.6.3. unless terminated by the Company under clauses 11.2 or 11.3 or 11.4, the Company will pay all outstanding Commissions and Bonuses due to the Publisher;
 - 11.6.4. by the Company under clauses 11.2 or 11.3 or 11.4 or 11.5 all unpaid Commissions as of the date of termination, or accruing after the date of termination, shall be forfeited to the Company irrevocably and the Publisher hereby waives any right or entitlement to recover such Commissions and Bonuses from the Company.
 - 11.6.5. the Publisher will release the Company from all obligations and liabilities occurring or arising after the date of such termination, except with respect to those obligations that by their nature are designed to survive termination.
 - 11.6.6. Upon termination of this Agreement, the Publisher's access to the Publisher Program will cease, and the Publisher shall relinquish all records and information pertaining to New Users registered with the Company under this Agreement. Specifically, upon termination becoming effective, the Company shall retain sole possession of (i) all data and information provided by New Users who subscribed or registered via the Publisher Sources through the Company Platform or as the case maybe, and (ii) any remuneration received from Advertisers and from New Users referred by the Publisher through the Company Platform or as the case maybe. The Publisher acknowledges it has no rights to retain the aforementioned New User data or claim any compensation related to such New Users, nor can it facilitate any transfer or migration of New Users to third parties.
 - 11.6.7. The Publisher or any other affiliated company of the Publisher agrees not to engage directly with Advertiser or any third party entity within the Advertiser's group of companies for a period of 90 days following the commencement or termination of the Publisher Program.

- 11.7. Termination will not relieve the Publisher from any liability arising from any breach of this Agreement, which occurred prior to termination and/or to any liability arising from any breach of Confidential Information even if the breach arises at any time following the termination of this Agreement.
- 11.8. The Publisher's obligation of confidentiality towards the Company shall survive the termination of this Agreement.

12. Notices

- 12.1. The Company retains the right to modify, amend, delete, or add any provisions of this Agreement at its sole discretion and at any time. In such instances, written notice of the amendments will be sent to the Publisher's registered email address, with such notice deemed served upon dispatch by the Company. The Publisher's ongoing participation in the Publisher Program following the publication of any amendments or modifications will constitute acceptance of the updated terms and conditions.
- 12.2. All annexes that are part of this agreement at present or subsequently added shall be deemed integral components of this agreement.
- 12.3. Any notice given or made under this Agreement to the Company shall be sent by email to legal@marketzoo.com unless otherwise notified by the Company. The Company shall send all notices by email to the email address supplied by the Publisher in the Application Form or as the case may be.
- 12.4. A notice sent by email will be deemed to have been received at the time of transmission as shown by the sender's records (or if sent outside business hours, at 9 am on the first Business Day following dispatch).

13. General

- 13.1. Certain functionalities or services offered by the Company or third parties may be subject to additional terms. Such terms will be communicated to the Publisher before those functionalities or services are supplied.
- 13.2. The Publisher may not assign or subcontract its rights or obligations under this Agreement in whole or part without the Company's prior written consent. The Company may assign or subcontract its rights or obligations under this Agreement, including to a Group Company.
- 13.3. Nothing in the Agreement constitutes a partnership or joint venture between the parties, nor constitutes a party the agent of the other. No party has authority to bind the other.

- 13.4. A counterpart of this Agreement executed and/or transmitted electronically shall be treated as fully binding and with full legal force and effect.
- 13.5. The Company's failure to enforce strict performance of any provision of this Agreement will not constitute a waiver of the Company's right to subsequently enforce such provision or any other provision of this Agreement.

14. APPLICABLE LAW & JURISDICTION

- 14.1. Whenever possible, each provision of this agreement will be interpreted in such a manner as to be effective and valid under applicable law, however; if any provisions of this Agreement are held to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable in any respect, such provision will be ineffective only to the extent of such invalidity, or unenforceability, without invalidating the remainder of this Agreement or any provision hereof.
- 14.2. This Agreement, and any dispute and/or claim arising out of or in connection with it (including non-contractual disputes or claims) shall be read, governed by, construed and interpreted in accordance with, the laws of Malta.
- 14.3. The Parties irrevocably submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of law in Malta to settle any disputes or claims which may arise out of or in connection with this Agreement including non-contractual disputes or claims.
- 14.4. The Publisher is aware that this Agreement is originally drawn up in English. The Publisher is aware of and accepts that, in the event of any inconsistencies or differences of interpretation between the English version and a translated version, this English version shall always prevail.
